
MA Law (Conversion)

International Students: The University of Law is no longer accepting applications from people who need a Student Route visa for full-time courses that start before July 2023

Course information

Our MA Law (Conversion) is the new pathway into practice for non-law graduates who want to gain a general qualification at master's level. This conversion course is a great option for non-law graduates who want to keep their options open, as you can either progress onto our LLM Legal Practice (SQE1&2) or the SQE1 Preparation Course to qualify as a solicitor, or the Bar Practice Course (BPC) to qualify as a barrister.
