

The University of Law

The University of Law (ULaw) is one of the UK's longest-established specialist providers of legal education and has trained more practising lawyers in the UK than anyone else.

ULaw offers a wide range of postgraduate law courses, including conversion courses for non-law graduates, course to become a barrister or solicitor, and specialist Masters courses to boost your career. All of the courses are employment-focused, designed by qualified experts with experience of real-life legal practice, allowing you to learn in a realistic, professional and contemporary context.

You can choose to study with ULaw full-time or part-time at a number of locations across the UK, in Hong Kong or online. All of the campuses are close to thriving commercial centres, law firms and barristers' chambers, with excellent transport links.

From before you apply until after you graduate, our award-winning Careers and Employability Team will be with you every step of the way. That's why 94% of our post-graduate students are employed in Highly Skilled Occupations within 15 months of graduating*.

We also have various funding options available to help you achieve your career ambitions, including up to £2 million available across our scholarship fund.

*94% of postgraduate students in employment were in Highly Skilled Occupations 15 months after graduating (2018/2019 Graduate Outcomes data). Contains Hesa Data ©HESA 2021 (www.hesa.ac.uk).
